

DIXIE DELEGATION TO INVADE GOTHAM

Invited By Gaynor, Will Make Loud Noise In New Orleans' Behalf.

BALTIMORE TRIP IS ALSO PLANNED

Publicity Committee Will Go Over to Meet the Board of Trade.

The distinguished visitors from Dixie, who are here presenting the claims of New Orleans for the great exposition to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal, have found Washington such a fine place in which to boom their cause that they intend to stay a day longer than was first planned.

Instead of boarding their special trains at 10 o'clock tonight, according to the original program, the delegation, which consists of the Louisiana State officials, members of the Legislature, and prominent citizens of four or five Southern states, will not leave for home until late Saturday night. Twenty-five or thirty of the party, headed by Mayor Behrman, of New Orleans, will proceed from here to New York instead of returning directly home.

Invited by Gaynor.
The entire party was invited by Mayor Gaynor to visit the metropolis, and use its busy thoroughfares for some loud shouting and other missionary work in the interest of the Crescent City.

It was impossible for all the visitors to make the trip, and T. P. Thompson, who is at the head of the big delegation, announced today that a special party will be designated to invade Gotham.

Just as spry and cheerful as they were when they first entered the Capital yesterday morning, the delegation today started out on its second day of booming. They devoted the major portion of their time to the precincts of the Capitol.

Using the same maps and the same literature—with some additions compiled overnight—the delegation appeared before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, the delegation appeared before the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations in the Senate office building today.

Governor a Speaker.

Governor Sanders of Louisiana, Speaker of the House Dupre, and Lieutenant Governor Lamberton were the principal speakers before the committee. Each laid particular stress upon the assertion that New Orleans is the logical point for holding the proposed exposition, and reminded the committee of how the Louisiana Legislature had passed a bill to amend the constitution of the State to permit the levying of a tax to raise $5,000,000 as a guarantee fund.

It was said this morning that the visitors would smother their booming talk for two hours this afternoon and attend a garden party at the White House at which they would be received by President and Mrs. Taft. The hour for this little social affair was set for 5 o'clock and although it was planned that it should be strictly a house party, the pleasant-smile affair, it was regarded as certain that something about what a fine place New Orleans is would be mentioned at least once or twice.

To Visit Baltimore.

It is the intention of the publicity committee to make hay tomorrow while the majority of the visitors are sightseeing. A small delegation will be sent to Baltimore to meet members of the Board of Trade and other civic bodies and to sprinkle around some attractive reading matter, telling where New Orleans is, and how much money it is raising, and what a fine world's exposition it could get up for Uncle Sam.

The pilgrimage to Mt. Vernon yesterday afternoon made a great impression upon the distinguished visitors. They were pleased with their cruise down the Potomac on the dispatch boat Dolphin, and enjoyed every moment of their stay at Washington's famous old plantation home.

ACTION LIKELY TO BE DELAYED

The Joint Committee of the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce, appointed to consider the feasibility of holding a celebration in Washington of the opening of the Panama Canal, is satisfied from information received at the Capitol that no action will be taken at this session of Congress.

Each member of the committee, however, is at work with members of the House and Senate seeking favorable action on the resolution introduced in the House by J. Hampton Moore and in the Senate by J. H. Gallinger. Individual petitions are being held with Senators and Representatives and the committee sees no necessity at this time for public hearings. The committee is satisfied that when Congress acts on the matter of a celebration the claims of the National Capital will be fully recognized.

BENNING CITIZENS OBJECT TO DUMP

Committee Named to Confer
With Commissioners Regarding the Matter.

Declaring that it was a disgrace that Benning should be the dumping ground for refuse removed from the city, members of the Benning Citizens' Association last night voted to have a committee confer with the Commissioners on the present system of dumping refuse in the suburb.

It was asserted that the health of all residents of Benning was menaced by the present system. It was also pointed out that wagons bearing refuse pass through Benning every day, including Sunday, sometimes so heavily loaded that refuse is scattered over the roadway.

Unanimous indorsement was given the 80-cent gas bill by the members. Approval was also given the universal transfer bill. The election of President Richardson as treasurer of the Federation of Citizens' Association was indorsed. The next meeting of the association will be the third Thursday in June.

GIRLS TAUGHT HOW TO STEP FROM CAR

Trolley Drill Is Latest Fad
In Brooklyn
Schools.

NEW YORK, May 27.—"Always wait until the car stops!" That's the very latest "yell" in the school gymnasium. It is sounded on the miniature trolley car, a contrivance in the gymnasium of the Eastern District High School, the Manual Training High School, Brooklyn, and a few others. Yesterday afternoon it was on exhibition at the games of the Eastern District High School.

It is a quaint contrivance that in general design looks like an ordinary handcar. But it has a step exactly the same in size, position, and distance from the ground as those on an ordinary street car. It is designed to teach girls how to get on and off a car properly. Six girls propel the car at a good rate of speed around the track. At certain points there are "stations" where other girls are waiting. There the girls on the car practice descending and the others getting aboard. When they get off they must be facing the direction in which the car is going. They must take hold of the handrail, both ascending and descending, and they must learn grace as well as precision in their movements. "You will be surprised," said Miss Jeanette Trowbridge, physical culture teacher at the Eastern District High School, "if you stop to notice how awkwardly, not to say dangerously, most women board a street car. And as for getting off, it is rare they even wait for the car to stop, unless forcibly restrained by the conductor. But the girls who thoroughly learn the proper methods in their schooldays will not forget them."

SAME OFFICE HELD BY BOYCE 27 YEARS

Funeral of Examiner in Pension
Office Held at Temple
Baptist Church.

With the death of Elias Boyce, the position of examiner in the Pension Office becomes vacant for the first time since 1883, Mr. Boyce having been appointed to the office in that year. The funeral of Mr. Boyce took place yesterday afternoon from Temple Baptist Church, 1101 Rev. J. J. Muir officiating. The interment took place at Glenwood Cemetery. Mr. Boyce is survived by a wife, who was Miss Marie Bartlett, of this city, and by a daughter, Mrs. John Cummings, of Brooklyn.

A MIGHTY MAN IS HE, THIS VILLAGE SMITH

With "Strong and Sinewy" Hands Removes Aching
Molar of Man Who Tries to Be a Squirrel—Sings
Blithely Meanwhile.

WINSTED, Conn., May 27.—The humanitarianism of George W. Jones, the blacksmith of Bakerville, near here, is surpassed only by the versatility of the same blacksmith.

He can play the accordion, he can sing a song, he can shoe a mule, or two mules, and he can discuss religion, art, politics, Shakespeare, and the musical classes. It has just fallen to his lot to pull a tooth out of a man once deputy sheriff and postmaster, and he did it with his thumb and forefinger and never stopped singing.

For years toothaches have run in the family of B. L. Belden. The curse of his race descended on Mr. Belden while he was engaged in hitting a nut. He turned to his wife, albeit with consummate self-control, and remarked that he couldn't stand it. "You must be patient, sheriff," she replied. "Think of the patience of Job." "That's all right," he retorted, "and Scripture into the bargain. But Job, he never tried to be a squirrel." "But you should be a little patient, anyway," persisted Mrs. Belden. "See how uncomplainingly I take it." "But the sheriff only muttered and tried to kick the cat."

FUNERAL "DE LUXE" OF PARIS IN DANGER

PARIS, May 27.—On the issue of caps or top hats the coffin bearer of Paris are today threatening a strike. They have issued an ultimatum to the undertakers' syndicate that unless they are permitted to supplant the uncomfortable hat "de luxe" by caps while officiating at funerals they will go on strike.

The request threw the undertakers into a fine French frenzy, but they replied that the dignity of French funerals must be preserved at all hazards. The "dead eaters," as the coffin bearers are known in France, say they will give the undertakers two weeks to consider their request, and if it is refused, they will walk through the streets of Paris with caps on their heads and opera hats in their hands.

"What's that you say?" demanded Mrs. Belden. "I can't, with women present," the sheriff answered.

After a night of agony, the sufferer hooked up his road mare and set out for New Hartford to see a dentist. His way led him past the smithy of Jones, of Bakerville. Jones was shoeing a mule, and as he stood he sang blithely, like a bird.

"You wouldn't sing," remarked the tormented man, with some asperity, "if you had my tooth."

"On the contrary," replied the smith, who, but for the variety of his work, might have been a dentist. He was singing with the same side of his mouth at the same time, "that's where you're wholly wrong—for the drinks."

"I find you very annoying," began the sheriff. "But as he opened his mouth to say those words the sheriff inserted a thumb and forefinger into the orifice and drew forth the broken molar, while the sheriff began an unheeded but indescribably artistic pantomime of rolling on the grass."

Sole by Smith—Victory, victory. The drinks are on you. Victory, victory. The drinks, they are on you.

BOOSTING BRYAN FOR SENATORSHIP

Nebraskan Expects to Have 50,000 Signatures to Petition.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 27.—"I have sent Bryan petitions to every precinct in Polk county and they are being generously signed," said Victor Wilson, of Stromberg, a member of the Nebraska Democratic Legislature.

"The petitions ask that Mr. Bryan's name be placed upon the ballot as a candidate for the United States Senate. Those petitions will be circulated pretty thoroughly over the State and we will be able to get many thousands of signatures. In fact I firmly believe that we can get 50,000 names on these petitions."

"Do you believe Mr. Bryan will be a candidate for the Senate?" was asked Mr. Wilson.

"I feel positive that when we file these petitions he will consent to make the race. I think there is no doubt about it," was the answer.

C. W. Bryan was asked if he knew that petitions were being circulated in the interest of Mr. Bryan and he replied that he had heard there were such petitions in existence, but that he had received no direct information regarding the matter.

WALSH WINE CELLAR DELAYS INVENTORY

Key In Safe Here, So Appraisal of Estate
Is Halted.

DENVER, Col., May 27.—At Clonmel, the Colorado home of the late Thomas F. Walsh, is $3,000 worth of wines, some of them 100 years old. The key to the cellar is in a safe. The combination of the safe is in Washington. So there you are.

Until the strong box can be unlocked the appraisal of this portion of the Walsh estate is at a standstill.

Walsh was a connoisseur of costly wines and prided himself upon as fine a collection of aged goods, considering its size, as could be found in the West. However, the key to the cellar is in the National Capital and for the time being one of the unique features of the inventory remains a mystery.

An inventory of the realty of the Walsh estate will be completed within a few weeks. This will include the 53-acre tract known as Clonmel, formerly Wolhurst; the Cheesman property on Lincoln avenue, sold to the Sons of the Revolution; the Roy group of mining claims near Leadville and the Hidden Treasure and other mines near Ouray.

Negotiations for the sale of Clonmel are progressing and within the next two or three weeks a deal will probably be closed for the transfer. Three persons have submitted bids and two of them are said to be close to the approximated figures of the appraisers.

When E. O. Wolcott purchased the property a number of years ago it was a ranch. He paid $25,000 for it. He made improvements to an extent that brought the entire cost to him about $100,000. Walsh paid $75,000 for the property.

Walsh changed the name from Wolhurst to Clonmel, the latter being the name of his birthplace in Ireland. The purchasers probably will change the name again.

The appraisers of the estate, Daniel W. Shea and John C. Twombly, have filed their report. One bed room set is worth $1,000 alone, and the other property about the place is appraised at $15,000. This includes furniture, farm implements, stock, etc.

JULIA WARD HOWE HOLDS RECEPTION

On Ninety-first Birthday Anniversary—Flooded With Congratulations and Flowers.

BOSTON, May 27.—Telegrams, cables, and letters of congratulation are pouring in today on Julia Ward Howe, "grand old woman of America," who is celebrating her ninety-first birthday anniversary. Mrs. Howe is in better health than she was last year, and she personally received her relatives and many intimate friends.

A steady procession of flower-bearing messengers has been arriving at her Beacon street home all day.

GARDNER FOR HOUSE TO HAVE NO RIVAL

State Senator Griffith of New Jersey Will Not Oppose Him.

TRENTON, May 27.—Senator Griffith W. Lewis, of Burlington county, announced yesterday that he was not a Congressional candidate, and he predicted that Representative John Gardner would be renominated and re-elected in the Second Congressional district. Senator Lewis had been regarded as Mr. Gardner's rival.

"I can see only Gardner in a survey of the field," said the Senator. "He will have Atlantic county solidly behind him this year. There is harmony in Atlantic, and Commodore Kuehnle is openly for Gardner. That is a whole lot better situation from Mr. Gardner's viewpoint than was the case in 1908."

"My term will be out in two years. So will Gardner's, and then I will feel perfectly free to announce myself a candidate for that very high and honorable office."

"Cape May county is in line, too. I am informed on good authority, and David Baird is for Mr. Gardner. That looks like a pretty strong aggregation to me, and I don't see how anybody can beat it, especially when it is remembered that there has been no apparent opposition from the party leaders in Cumberland county."

"My term will be out in two years. So will Gardner's, and then I will feel perfectly free to announce myself a candidate for that very high and honorable office."
